Winemaker Notes

FRESHNESS

The Rosso di Montalcino Doc 2018 "Canalicchio di Sopra" is the result of a cool and slightly rainy vintage that saw the arrival of winds from the north in the final part of the season which guaranteed excellent ripening and helped to concentrate the fruit while leaving the identity of a vintage of extreme elegance and length on the wines. From a vintage like this comes an extremely territorial wine characterized by a marked floreality. Acidity and minerality are the balancing pivots of this wine which due to its characteristics is an extremely gastronomic wine, and with great aging potential, especially in large formats.
Freshness, versatility, vibration, silkiness, length: these are the words to describe this wine
